Q. 13. Summarise the things that the lawyer learnt from books in prison.

Ans. There was a bet between the lawyer and the banker. According to the bet the lawyer had to remain in the strictest solitary confinement for 15 years. The lawyer had seen neither the earth nor any human face. But through the books he learnt the earthy life. He had drunk fragrant wines, heard the songs, sung the songs and heard the story fabricated by the great scholars. In his books he saw mountains, forests, trees etc. He had also seen^{sun} towns, rivers^{and} lakes. He had touched the wings of the devils flying down

He came to know that all the worthless thought man has developed during the ages was worthless, fluttering, illusory and deceptive like a mirage. All the riches of the world like wealth, health and character are all nothing. So, after learning these knowledge from the books he renounced everything which he considered as a heaven 15 years before ago.

Q Our life, Everyday after we wake up we see newspapers. It is very essential part of our life. Some people can even can't drink tea without newspaper.

In India Newspapers came with the Britishers. Britishers found that there is no means by which they can share their views with people and to know the views of people about them.

By Newspapers we come to know about the happenings in the world. People also develop a feeling of brotherhood by knowing about some other religions, caste, creed etc. It also do the work of sorting the problems & of dispute because

People can also draft the advertisement in newspapers and increase their business. People can know about the utility of an item to be purchased by advertisement. There is another advantage that is the jobless youth can see the special column published in newspapers for job vacancy and get the job. The matrimonial column in newspaper helps the people to find their sole mate. The students can get the results of board exams and other competitive exams ~~too~~ from the newspapers. So, it is very important for stu-
