PARAGRAPH

"How You Secured 90% Marks In Board Exam?"

The a main objective of each and every board student is to get about 90% in the examination. To secure 90% marks in the board exams, we should completely change our routine. We should start our studies two months before the date of examination. We should curtail watching the T.V. We should get up early in the morning and should revise all the things which we have studied in previous month. We should reduce our hours of playing games and should divert our full attention and concentration towards our studies. We should also concern our teachers towards the pattern, of how to write in the board exams. We should also concern to those brilliant students who have scored good marks in the previous years. We should study each and every question from our own text-book and should not depend on other supporting books. If we have confidence on ourself then we can surely score 90% marks in the board exams.

can also act as grazing land for cattles. They give can also give employment to large no. of people. About 7.8 lakhs & crores people are engaged in diff. industries based on forest products. They also help in earning foreign exchange as they help in exporting diff. types of products made by them. Diff. small scale industries are also based on forest <sup>products</sup> like tendupatta, cane, honey, wax etc. It also helps in gaining a large income as it gives presently about 740 crores of rupees per annum to the Govt. as a mark of respect and loyalty. There are many indirect advantages of forest also. They help to control flood as the soil absorbs much of water and they also act as hurdle in the way of running water. They control the climate as they act as wind break. They check soil erosion as they hold the uppermost layer of soil. They also check the growing sand dune areas. They act as rain bearers and help in raising the level of water. They also improve the quality of the soil as leaves of the trees in the forest decomposes to form humus. They also act as the natural habitat of animals.

का योग

Man has recklessly destroyed forest along with wild life due to which many animals are in the verge of extinction. Growing population is also responsible for deforestation. They have to be saved from ecological balance. This is the reason why,

"Deforestation is imbalancing the ECOSYSTEM."

Ans-11 Gerard told to the intruder that he was also a 'mystery man' like him. Police was also behind him for a course of 1 year. Hiding himself from the police he had stayed in the cottage. The Gerard said him that he had spotted a man on the main road who will tell us about the action of the police, through telephone. Just then the telephone bell rang, Gerard listen to it and said Intruder, that the police was heading towards the cottage. He said to the Intruder to see himself the coming of police. When the Intruder move forward to see the coming police, he (that is Gerard) push ~~in~~ him in the cupboard and lock him up. He also pick up the gun of that Intruder and pointed it toward the cupboard gate. In this way Gerard finally confine the intruder in the cupboard.

Ans-12 The author thought that the boys were going home. Their destination would be a humble dwelling. But when he reached <sup>their</sup> ~~her~~ destination he found a large red roofed villa, surrounded by a high stone wall. He could scarcely believe his eyes but he later found that it was a hospital. The author had a desire to see what the two boys were doing in the hospital. So he went behind him. The nurse made him look through the glass partition. He found that the boys were having a sister Lucia, suffering from T.B. of spine. The author had refused to go into Lucia's room because he did not want to interfere upon the happy family party. The boys were sitting beside their sister and she was also talking to them, listening to their chattering with sisterly love. This was the reason why the author had not went inside the Lucia's room.

Ans-13 In the last year of his confinement, the prisoner read an immense quantity of books. For one time he would busy in natural science and for the other time he would ask for the Byron and Shakespeare. There were books in which he demanded in the form of notes, books on chemistry and a manual of science and a novel and treaties on philosophy and theology. His reading suggested a man have swimming in the sea with a wreckage in the ship and is trying to save his life but greedily clutching one of the spar and then to another. This books gave him wisdom. He concluded that the banker has chosen a wrong path. He had chosen lies for truth and ugliness for beauty. In a nutshell he had exchanged the heaven for the earth. The banker has no wisdom and has also lost his sense of reasoning. He was a man of ego, greed as well as prestige. The things he had learned from the books were as follows :-

- (i) Freedom, life, health and all the worldly riches are worthless.
- (ii) Everything is weak and void.
- (iii) Everything is illusory and deceptive like a mirage.
- (iv) Everything is worthless and fleeting.
- (v) Life is not worth living.
- (vi) Only one thing is certain, i.e. the Death. Death will soon wipe off/out everything.
