Ans: In the poem "Invocation", the poet says that battles are the roots of only loss, actually it symbolises for everything's loss. Nothing can be gained from it. Many soldiers are killed in it, many resources are also destroyed in its course.

And therefore speaker does not want the battle cry to be raised. There are only bad effects cause by the battle. It doesn't give rise to any good sign. In battles, there are

Q.12 - Essay -
The Burning problem of India - → Population :-

India is the second most populous ~~em~~ country in the world. A ~~de~~ developing nation by economic status. India cannot afford any much more population increases. India accounts for only 2.4 percent of the land's area which is inhabited by 16.7 percent of the world's population. The population of the India which was 345 million at the time of independence grew upto 1,027 as on March 1, 2001. India's growth rate is very high. As the population increases day by day, resources are also ~~em~~ consumed day by day. As the resources increased in a arithmetic progression, the population is increasing in the geometric progression. If the current remains unchecked, then by 2050, India would become the most populous country in the world with the 16.7 percent of the world's population.

One of the main reasons of the increasing population is the bigoted beliefs held by most of the Indians. The orthodox believes that children are the blessings of God and any efforts by man to not accept Him would mean the invitation of His wrath. More children means more hands to supplement the family income. They somehow ignore the facts that more children to feed and for their house holding. The early marriages of the girl results in the motherhood at the tender age of 16. Desired for a male child also creates problems i.e. many couples in the rural areas refuse to adopt the the contraceptive measures till they get the male child. The illiteracy also creates problem which don't know the significance of the developing nation.

Increase in population leads to many socio-economic problems. There are so many problems for food and shelter and house holding and so many such problems. As the resources are consuming day by day, there would be so much lack of these petrol will be definitely consumed all within the 20 years or so early. There are so many population as we cannot generate such things more rapidly. It ~~we~~ will be so much harmful for us in future due to lack of resources.
