Answers of Q.No.11 (Any three)

(i) The poet wants the 'people in authority' to realize their duties towards the children of the slum. All sorts of 'social injustice' and 'class inequalities' must be ended by eliminating the obstacles that confine these children to their dark and filthy environment.

Let me study. Let them learn to express themselves. Then, these children will share the fruits of progress of ~~the~~ and prosperity and their life will change for the better.

(ii) 'Counting upto twelve' takes a very short time. Keeping still for this ~~brief~~ short period will give us momentary pause to introspect and review our actions of course.

It is seen that most of the chaos of the world is caused by our rush and hurry.

Thus, counting upto twelve will create the feeling of mutual understanding among human beings.

Ans of Q. No. 13Any two:

Child labour should be eliminated because of the following reasons:

1. It should be eliminated because it takes away the 'childhood' and the elementary aspects of their education.

2. It affects the physical and mental health of the children.

Ways to prevent child labour

1. In order to eliminate the child labour, education should be easily available to the poor children.

2. Awareness should be created among the people to make them realise that 'child labour is a crime' and it is punishable under law.

3. Government should ensure 'strict laws' to prevent the child labour. Offenders should be punished by the Government.

(iii) 'Umberto Eco' has stated in his own words that the life of every person has many time intervals with no important jobs. He stated that he did most of his writings during these free time intervals. Whenever he has time to spare in between two different tasks, instead of wasting time he utilises his time to write. He could write a lot in a short period of time. That was the secret of his writing. Even he gave an example to explain his working techniques in such a way that while waiting for the someone to come up the elevator, he keeps himself busy. In this way, Eco finds the time to write so much.

प्रश्न क्र.

Ans of Q. No. 19

Antartica is the 'pristine' place in the world which has never sustained a human population.

It holds half-a-million old carbon traces in its layers of ice.

It gives us an understanding of evolution and extinction, carbon and ozone. A visit to the antartica is like going back to the past time.

Witnessing the geological phenomena such as drifting of the landmasses and their separation into the countries helps us to know the history of mankind.

There are visible signs of where the mankind came from or where it is headed if we do not take care of the environment.

We can study the climatic conditions such as global warming and depletion of ozone layer here.

"Thus, 'Antartica is the place which reveals our past, shows us the present and visualizes our future.'"

प्रश्न क्र.

Ans of Q.No. 14 (OR)

In the poem 'A thing of beauty', poet 'John Keats' tells us that natural things give us everlasting joy and help us to forget our sorrows.

They give joy and optimism to the human mind that help them to overcome ^{their} difficulties.

In this poem, 'grandeur' of the mighty dead lies in their noble deeds. They have left behind the beautiful legacy of their brave acts. Their 'selfless sacrifice' for the nation and their noble works for the welfare of the mankind still continues to inspire us.

Thus, the 'grandeur' is associated with the mighty dead.

Dear Anu,

I am fine and happily living my days here. I hope that you are doing well. Today, I have an important thing to tell you. As you know that now-a-days there is competition in every stream and one has to prepare himself to beat it.

As, you are going to complete your schooling this year, I want to advise you that along with your college studies, you should continue studying English and general knowledge. To fight any competition, the knowledge of these subjects is very necessary. Take my advise seriously as it will really help you in your future.

Rest is fine.

Yours truly,
Shweta

"Importance of Games and sports"

Games and sports are an important part of education. They help in the development of physique and mind of the students.

M

It is said:-

P

"Sound body possesses a sound mind."

B

If we are sick and weak, we are unable to study properly.

S

Games and sports help us to remain active, alert and smart.

E

Importance of health in the human life can be well understood from following Arabian proverb,

"He who has health has hope, he who has hope has everything."

More bookish knowledge would not suffice. Similarly, more sports won't work. Two should be blended in a proper so that the students can have the best of them because both are required for the development of a good personality. Games and sports create a feeling of "sportmanship" in a person.

The first and foremost thing that the games teach us is to take victory and defeat alike. In any game, there are two parties. One gets victor while the other loses.

Winners need not to be over-confident and on the other hand, losers should not get desperate. Both the parties should greet each other after the game.

Secondly, games and sports teach us discipline. Every player has to play obeying all the rules of game. He has to abide by the decisions of the umpire. In addition to this, games and sports create a feeling of brotherhood and mutual understanding among the players. Thus, games and sports establish the 'world peace'.

Games and sports play a vital role in the life of students. The foundation of a virtuous life is laid in school. Therefore, if a student develops the taste of sports and studies in a proper way, he can become an ideal citizen in his later life.
